The MusicPad Pro® Plus

The paperless music library is here.

ANNOTATE IN COLOR ▶

Type in text or make notes in your own handwriting, correct errors in the score or highlight key passages. Plus a large library of notation symbols makes it easy to adjust your scores as needed.

ZOOM-IN ▶

You can zoom in to key passages in the score while doing your annotation. This allows you to be more precise in your corrections and annotations and then easily go back to the normal viewing mode.

Bring your sheet music into the digital age. To order, call 1.800.917.1975 or visit freehandsystems.com/products.html today.

◀ LOOK AHEAD

Turn on this feature in portrait mode and our half-page turn allows you to look ahead to the next page of your score and never miss a note. In landscape mode, our two-page display lets you see pages side-by-side during your performance.

◀ TURN THE PAGE

To turn pages, just touch the screen. The right side of the touch-screen turns the page forward while the left side of the screen turns it back. If you prefer, there's an optional foot pedal also available.

◀ DOWNLOAD, IMPORT OR SCAN MUSIC

With a storage capacity of thousands of pages of music, you'll have easy access to your entire library whether you're at home, in your office or in the classroom.

The new look in sheet music.

You can say goodbye to missing scores, lost rehearsal notes and unintended breaks in the music. The paperless music library has arrived. And it's reinventing how students, teachers and performers look at music in the classroom, at rehearsal and on stage.

The MusicPad Pro® Plus is an easy-to-use digital music notebook in a handy 12.1" tablet size. Now all your sheet music, drill charts, lyrics, guitar tablature, bowing and fingering marks, class schedules, set lists and other study and performance aids can all be kept in one convenient place. Its innovative touch screen lets you make marks and notations right on the page of music. You can then store, change and delete your marks as needed — without losing your original score.

Your entire music library at your fingertips.

You can store an entire season's worth of concerts or an entire semester of classroom materials in one compact unit and add new scores or material at any time. It's easy to download music from freehandmusic.com, scan your music library or import music from all the popular music and graphics programs directly into the MusicPad Pro Plus.

Thousands of pages of sheet music. Not one page to turn.

About the size of a sheet of music, the MusicPad Pro Plus has a high-resolution, low glare, easy-to-read display. Its back-lit, touch screen eliminates the need for external lighting in low-light or no-light situations. And a quick touch on the screen or tap on the optional foot pedal will turn the page for you. Plus, the convenient video out feature makes it easy to project your notes and annotations so you can share materials with students and colleagues.

30-Day Money-Back Guarantee.

Try the MusicPad Pro Plus risk-free for 30-days and if you aren't completely convinced that it will forever change the way you organize, read and perform music, simply return it in the original packaging for a full refund. No questions asked.

Changing the way music is made.

You can download over 90,000 digital sheet music selections from freehandmusic.com directly into the MusicPad Pro Plus. The unit comes with our Music Manager software for your Mac or PC. The software runs on Windows 2000 SP4, XP, and on Macintosh OS X (10.2 and greater). And all functions are performed using simple pull-down menus similar to the ones you're already familiar with, so you'll be up and running in no time at all.

The Music Manager software converts Sibelius, Finale, Encore and Cakewalk — any composition software that's available for your computer — into a MusicPad Pro file. In fact, anything that can be printed on your PC or Mac can be converted to a viewable file for the MusicPad. You also get enhanced search, browsing and play list capabilities, two-page display in landscape mode, an audio player for MIDI and more.

Organizing your music and your thoughts has never been easier. You also get wireless networking capability so you're able to see all the pads on the network and choose the one you want to communicate with. Plus, you'll also get a pitch pipe, metronome and MP3 player.

Now your music — all of it — is easy to access whether you're at home, in the studio or on the road.
